

NSF CI Compass Conflict of Interest Statement

In order to be transparent about the NSF CI Compass members' conflicts of interest, we are providing information on the participants of CI Compass.

Ewa Deelman at the Institute of Information Sciences at the University of Southern California discloses a conflict of interest. Her group are the authors and developers of the Pegasus workflow system (<https://pegasus.isi.edu/>). Pegasus receives support from the Department of Energy, the National Institutes of Health, and the U.S. National Science Foundation. Deelman's group is also participating in OSG/PaTh and ACCESS.

Anirban Mandal at the Renaissance Computing Institute at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill discloses a conflict of interest. He is the PI/co-PI for the following NSF-funded projects: CC* FlyNet project and X-CITE CyberTraining project, and co-PI for the DOE-funded PosEiDon and SWARM projects.

Jarek Nabrzyski at the University of Notre Dame discloses a conflict of interest. Nabrzyski is engaged in a number of startups including SimbaChain.com, Web3Sense.ai, in-wonder.net, RealBlockexchange.com.

Valerio Pascucci at the University of Utah discloses a conflict of interest. He is the PI of the NSF-funded National Science Data Fabric and is associated with the Open Science Grid (OSG), Open Storage Network (OSN), the Materials Commons, and the Digital Rocks Portal. Valerio is also involved in the DOE Exascale Computing Project (ECP) and NASA Advanced Supercomputing (NAS). Valerio is engaged in a number of startups, including nViewMedical, ProActive Memory Services, and ViSOAR LLC. Valerio has also contributed to a number of community libraries, including the Topology ToolKit (TTK), the Visualization Toolkit (VTK), the Topological Analysis of Large Scale Simulations (TALASS), N-Dimensional Data Analysis and Visualization (NDDAV), OpenViSUS, Morse-Smale Complex Extraction, Exploration, and Reasoning (MSCEER). Pascucci's group members are also participating in several of the projects above.

Robert Ricci at the University of Utah discloses a conflict of interest. He is PI of the NSF-funded CloudLab facility, is a co-PI of the NSF-funded Powder facility, and through subcontracts has involvement in the NSF-funded FABRIC and GENI/Enter projects.

Charles Vardeman at the University of Notre Dame discloses a conflict of interest. He is co-PI of several subprojects in the SCALE workforce development Trusted AI program and is co-PI of E616 project in collaboration with SimbaChain. He also has been associated with several natural hazard resilience projects including co-PI on the NSF funded Life-cycle Assessment of Resiliency and Sustainability of Buildings and co-PI on the NJ state funded njcoast.us efforts and the Sloan Foundation funded Linked-data API for Network DRones (LANDRS) project.

Don Brower at the University of Notre Dame discloses a conflict of interest. He is a co-PI on the NSF funded SEEKCommons FAIROS RCN.

Angela Murillo has no conflict of interest.

Kerk Kee has no conflict of interest.